At Nadom Herbal Center, it's part our social responsibilities to constantly educate the public on simply but effective herbal treatments and remedies.

Malaria Treatment

Proper malaria treatment is possible using herbs as long as you know what type you have. Malaria is a very contagious parasitic infection that is common in tropical and subtropical regions. Some strains can remain dormant in the system for months or years after the initial exposure. There are three types of malaria: Tertian Fever, Quartan Fever and Malignant Fever. In Tertian Fever, the attacks happen on alternate days. With Quartan Fever, the attack of fever happens after an interval of two days, for example, first fever will occur on the first day, then again on the 4th day, then the 7th, and so on. Malignant Tertian is a very severe type that is the most alarming.

Symptoms

Symptoms may include fever, headache, fatigue, muscle aches, shaking chills, nausea and vomiting. The symptoms may come and go. Symptoms appear seven to nine days after being bitten.

Causes

Malaria is caused by a protozoan that infests the body known as Plasmodium. This protozoan lives within the red blood cells. These protozoa are transmitted from person to person by the Anopheles mosquito, which is native to tropical and subtropical regions. There are four Plasmodium protozoan species that are responsible for causing multiplies. While the parasite is in the liver there are no visible symptoms. The parasites multiply quickly, resulting in destruction of red blood cells. With this knowledge it is possible to choose herbal malaria treatment that can fight this disease successfully.

Cautions

Seek medical attention as soon as possible. Treatment should be started within the first 24 hours after the first symptom manifests. While Tertian and Quartan Fevers can be treated at home, Malignant Tertian must be treated in a hospital. Complications of malaria include anemia, dysentery and kidney failure.

Herbal Treatments

Internal Applications

Lemon

Take the juice of 1 lemon and add 3 grams of lime. Mix this with 60 ml of water. Take this mixture before you think an attack is about to occur.

Holy basil

Mix 11 grams of holy basil leaf juice with 3 grams of powdered black pepper to be taken in the cold stage of malaria. This can check the severity.

Datura

For Tertian Fever, use 2-1/2 freshly sprouted leaves. Make these leaves into a pill by rubbing them with jiggery and take them 2 hours before the next attack.

Cinnamon

Take a teaspoon of coarsely powdered cinnamon and boil it in a cup of water and a pinch of pepper powder and honey.

Guarana - reputed to offer protection against malaria.

Wormwood

The active constituent artemisinin in this plant is very effective against malaria. Thought to be particularly useful in treating drug resistant malaria.

Garlic A natural antibiotic, garlic has been used to treat malaria as well
